DOMESTIC CRUDE OIL

Posted Price Manual; Notice of Inquiry

FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION

[10 CFR Part 212]

POSTED PRICE MANUAL

AGENCY: Federal Energy Administration.

ACTION: Notice of inquiry.

SUMMARY: The Federal Energy Administration ("FEA") has compiled a preliminary list of prices for domestic crude oil from crude oil price bulletins obtained from major purchasers. From the information available to the FEA, these prices appear to represent the highest prices contained in publicly circulated written offers in the specified fields on May 15, 1973 and on September 30, 1975, the reference dates for determining lower tier and upper tier ceiling prices, respectively. The FEA intends to distribute this information to its compliance personnel as part of a posted price manual to facilitate consistent determinations of posted prices. Prices ultimately contained in the manual will, unless otherwise rebutted, be presumed to be the highest posted prices for each particular grade of domestic crude oil in each particular field on the above dates. This Notice of Inquiry is being issued in order to obtain comments from interested persons with respect to whether the attached preliminary list accurately reflects the highest posted prices in each of the fields listed, and whether the list includes prices for all fields. Comments are also requested on the desirability and feasibility of ultimately adopting a list of posted prices in the form of a regulation, which would serve as the conclusive determinant of such prices.

DATES: Comments by July 22, 1977, 4:30 p.m.

ADDRESSES: Comments to: Federal Energy Administration, 2000 M Street, N.W., Room 6304G, Washington, D.C. 20460, Attention: Theodore L. Flood.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. BACKGROUND

The Mandatory Petroleum Price Regulations applicable to first sales of domestic crude oil (10 CFR Part 212, Subpart D) require that with respect to a particular grade of crude oil produced and sold in a particular field, ceiling prices for lower tier and upper tier crude oil be established by reference to the "highest posted price" for that grade of crude oil in that field on one of two reference dates (May 15, 1973 for lower tier crude oil and September 30, 1975 for upper tier crude oil) (10 CFR 212.73 and 212.74). Section 212.31 defines "posted price" as:

> A written statement of crude oil prices circulated publicly among sellers and buyers of crude oil in a particular field in accordance with historic practices, and generally known by sellers and buyers within the field.

As discussed in greater detail in FEA Ruling 1977-1 (42 FR 3628, January 19, 1977), price bulletins periodically issued by principal purchasers announcing the price that that purchaser would pay for a particular grade of crude oil in a particular location have generally been used to establish posted prices, but the FEA also recognizes as a posted price any written offer to purchase as long as it is a bona fide public offer of general applicability to crude oil producers in the field.

The posted price concept was incorporated into the ceiling price rule by the Cost of Living Council in August 1973 as part of the Phase IV Subpart L regulations applicable to petroleum products and is intended for the most part to provide a self-determining mechanism for all producers to determine ceiling prices in each field, without the need for FEA to make official determinations as to the different ceiling prices applicable to each of the many domestic fields in which crude oil is produced and sold.

However, because of the possibility of multiple posted prices for particular grades and fields and of overlapping posted prices, determinations of highest posted prices on a case-by-case basis have in many cases been time-consuming and duplicative. Therefore, the FEA has determined to make available to FEA personnel a manual of posted prices in order to accelerate, standardize, and facilitate the efforts both of producers and FEA personnel in determining first sale ceiling prices for domestic crude oil.

The preliminary list which is attached has been derived from the price bulletins obtained by FEA from the principal purchasers of crude oil and contains the highest prices found in those bulletins for particular grades of crude oil at particular fields on May 15, 1973 and September 30, 1975. The prices contained in the manual will be presumed to represent the highest posted prices for the dates, grades of crude oil and fields described, although this presumption may be rebutted on a case-by-case basis upon an adequate factual basis.

It is, therefore, extremely important that to the extent possible the list be accurate, both in terms of completeness (a posting for each field on each date) and in terms of containing the actual highest posted price for each grade in each domestic field. In order to insure the greatest possible reliability, the FEA specifically solicits comments on the sufficiency and accuracy of the following list. Comments should be accompanied, where possible, with copies of documents which purport to be posted prices. With respect to fields in which posted prices did not exist on one or both of the reference dates, comments are solicited as to reference postings in the "nearest" field.

Comments are also requested on the desirability and feasibility of ultimately adopting a list of posted prices in the form of a regulation, which would serve as the conclusive determinant of such prices.

II. COMMENT PROCEDURE

Interested persons are invited to participate in the formulation of this manual by submitting data, views or arguments with respect to the preliminary list attached to this notice. Comments should be identified on the outside envelope and on documents submitted with the designation "Posted Price Manual," and to the extent possible should be received by FEA on or before July 22, 1977. Five copies should be submitted. This Notice, the preliminary list, and all comments received by FEA will be available for public inspection in the FEA Reading Room, Room 2107, Federal Building, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Any information or data considered by the person furnishing it to be confidential must be so identified and submitted in writing, one copy only. The FEA reserves the right to determine the confidential status of the information or data and to treat them according to its determination.

Because this notice does not propose the adoption by FEA of a rule, regulation, or policy affecting the quality of the environment, it has not been submitted to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency for his comments.

NOTE.—Because this notice does not propose the adoption by FEA of a rule or regulation, FEA has determined that the preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821 and OMB Circular A-107 is not required.

(1) Base gravities are normally stated at 40°API; however, there is normally a 2¢ per degree price differential resulting in a price decrease as the base gravity decreases.
(2) Prices and references are shown for fields for which sufficient price documentation could be obtained.
